Understanding Chase TravelSM Flight Bookings

When you book through Chase TravelSM (powered by Expedia), your ticket is ultimately issued by the airline—not Chase itself. This is the most important thing to understand before making changes.

Key Point:

- Chase Travel is a booking platform
- The airline sets the cancellation and change rules
- Policies vary based on fare type (Basic Economy, Main Cabin, Business, etc.)

This means your flexibility depends more on the airline than the Chase Travel portal.

Before You Cancel or Change Your Flight: What You MUST Check

Many travelers make costly mistakes because they skip these checks:

1. Fare Rules (Most Important)

Always review:

- Refundable vs non-refundable tickets
- Change fees
- Airline credit eligibility

2. 24-Hour Rule (U.S. DOT Policy)

Most airlines allow:

- Free cancellation within 24 hours of booking
- Full refund to original payment method

3. Airline Schedule Changes

If the airline changed your flight:

- You may qualify for free rebooking or refund

4. Travel Insurance Coverage

If you purchased protection via Chase Travel:

- Check covered cancellation reasons (illness, emergencies, delays)

How to Cancel a Flight on Chase TravelSM

Here is the standard process:

Step-by-Step Cancellation Process:

1. Log into your Chase TravelSM account
2. Go to My Trips
3. Select your flight booking
4. Click Cancel Flight
5. Review refund or credit options
6. Confirm cancellation

Important Note:

- Refunds are not always returned as cash
 - Many airlines issue future travel credits instead

How to Change Your Flight on Chase TravelSM

Changing a booking is slightly different from canceling.

Steps to Modify Your Flight:

1. Open Chase TravelSM
2. Select your itinerary under My Trips

3. Choose Change Flight
4. Search for new available flights
5. Compare fare differences
6. Confirm and pay any difference (if applicable)

Common Fees:

- Airline change fee (if applicable)
 - Fare difference
 - Service charges (rare but possible)

What Reddit Users in the U.S. Commonly Ask (Real Concerns Explained)

Based on frequently discussed travel issues on forums like Reddit, here are the most common questions and clear answers:

? “Why can’t I get a refund through Chase Travel?”

Because refunds depend on:

- Airline policy
- Ticket type
- Whether cancellation was voluntary

? “Is it cheaper to cancel or change a flight?”

Usually:

- Changing is cheaper if you still plan to travel
- Canceling often leads to travel credits only

? “Does Chase Travel charge extra fees?”

Chase Travel typically does not add extra cancellation fees, but:

- Airlines may charge change penalties
- Fare differences always apply

? “What if the airline cancels my flight?”

You are usually entitled to:

- Full refund OR
- Free rebooking

? “How long do refunds take?”

Typically:

- 7–21 business days depending on airline

Hidden Rules You Should Know Before Making Changes

1. Basic Economy Restrictions

- Often non-changeable
- No refunds unless airline cancels flight

2. Travel Credits Expiration

- Credits may expire within 6–12 months

3. Partial Refund Situations

You may only receive partial refund if:

- One segment of a multi-city trip is used
- Airline penalty applies

4. Third-Party Booking Limitations

Since Chase Travel is an intermediary:

- Changes may take longer to process
 - Some modifications require airline intervention

When You Should Contact Support Immediately

Contact support if:

- Your flight is within 24–48 hours
- You see incorrect refund details
- Airline website shows different rules than Chase Travel

- Your booking is not editable online
